

Jill Marie Parillo

Jill Parillo is Deputy Director for Security Programs at Physicians for Social Responsibility. Her work focuses on domestic and international nuclear weapon and energy policy, and promoting scientific engagement opportunities with Iran. Prior to joining Physicians for Social Responsibility, Parillo worked for the Congressional Research Service (CRS) where she co-authored several CRS Reports to Congress on issues relating to the U.S.-India nuclear deal, Iran and the nuclear fuel cycle. She also worked as a Project Associate for Nonproliferation at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace with a focus on international nuclear weapon policy.

Prior to her work in Washington D.C., she worked for the Monterey Institute at the Department of Disarmament Affairs and the Conference on Disarmament at the United Nations in Geneva, Switzerland. In 2003, she worked in Paris as a graduate assistant at the European Union Institute for Security Studies (EU-ISS) on European security and defense policy (ESDP). She holds a Masters of Arts in International Policy from the Monterey Institute. Languages: Advanced French and Beginning Farsi.