

CV Poul Erik Christiansen

Poul Erik Christiansen is the Program Director of the Pugwash Conferences in Science and World Affairs (1995 Nobel Peace Prize Laureate), a network of scientists, scholars, and public figures dedicated to eliminating all weapons of mass destruction. He has worked with Pugwash in various capacities since 2008 and the Ottawa Dialogue, a similar “Track Two Diplomacy” organization. Both were case studies for doctoral research, gaining his Ph.D. (Political Science) from the University of Ottawa, Canada. As a postdoctoral student, he was the inaugural Raymond Frankel Nuclear Security Policy Fellow at the American Academy of Arts & Sciences.